

Personal

Overdrafts for GB personal customers

Effective 18 March 2022

Bank of Ireland
UK

An overdraft allows you to borrow using your current account. If you withdraw more money than you have in your account, the money you use after your bank balance reaches zero is called an overdraft. This money can be useful as a back-up to help you deal with short term, unexpected costs.

An arranged overdraft is an overdraft that we've approved on your account, and you can borrow up to that limit at an arranged overdraft interest rate.

Example – if you have £50 in your account and an approved arranged overdraft limit of £50, you will be able to spend up to £100 because of the approved overdraft.

An arranged overdraft can work as a financial cushion, protect your credit standing and also improve cash flow.
Plus:

- ▶ You only pay interest when you use the overdraft
- ▶ There is no charge for setting up, increasing, decreasing or even cancelling an overdraft facility on a current account
- ▶ You can have an arranged overdraft set permanently or temporarily (up to 90 days) on your account

Before applying for an overdraft you can find out if you are likely to be approved by using our overdraft eligibility checker. You can also use our overdraft cost calculator to work out how much overdraft interest you will be charged. Both of these tools are available at bankofirelanduk.com/overdrafts.

If you use an unarranged overdraft you will be charged unarranged overdraft interest and you may also pay unarranged overdraft charges, depending on the type of current account you have. See our 'Schedule of Charges' which you can get from our website at bankofirelanduk.com for more information.

Always discuss your borrowing needs with us to avoid going into an unarranged overdraft.

How much can I apply for?

Clear Account

Up to a maximum of 70% of your monthly/fortnightly/weekly income.

All credit facilities including overdrafts are subject to our usual lending conditions.

How can I apply?

The application process is easy and convenient – simply phone 0800 0850 444*.

When you apply for an arranged overdraft with us, we look at your circumstances and let you know if you can have one.

The overdraft approval and set up process usually takes 3 working days. If your application is successful the overdraft limit will show on your account and we will confirm the overdraft by letter.

Other important things that you need to know if you are applying for an overdraft facility

- ▶ You need to be over 18 years of age.
- ▶ Every time you apply for an overdraft, we will ask your permission to undertake a credit search. This means if you apply for another temporary overdraft following expiry of an earlier facility, we will undertake a further credit search. If your borrowing needs are likely to become more permanent, you should consider requesting a permanent overdraft facility to prevent successive credit searches being carried out by us.
- ▶ A record of the search will be kept by Credit Reference Agency (CRA) and this could impact your ability to obtain credit elsewhere within a short period of time.
- ▶ Information that we share with CRAs will include information about the running of the account such as limit and balances as well as payment performance.

- ▶ Joint Accounts only: If you are applying for an overdraft on a joint account and you give us information about another person then you must ensure that you have their authority to consent to the processing of their information. If they ask us to tell them who gave their information and consent to process their information, we will do so. In proceeding with an application you confirm that all applicants consent to the overdraft.

If, for any reason you feel you don't fully understand the overdraft, or the commitment you're entering into, we would encourage you to take further time to consider your application or to discuss it with a family member or friend.

- ▶ It is important that you read the Terms and Conditions (T&Cs) which will be enclosed with the overdraft decision letter (if the overdraft is approved).

How much will it cost me?

There are no fixed repayments on an overdraft. You will have to pay interest on the overdraft. Temporary overdrafts must be repaid in full at the end of the approved period.

How much does my overdraft cost in pounds and pence?

As an example, the interest cost of borrowing £500 is:

7 days	30 days	60 days
£2.85	£12.39	£25.09

The 60 day example takes into account interest charged in the first 30 days. You can use our calculator to work out how much your anticipated arranged overdraft borrowing would cost over different periods of time. Find it at bankofirelanduk.com/overdrafts

How do our overdrafts compare?

Representative example: Based on an overdraft limit of £1,200 used in full for a three month period where the variable rate of interest is currently 29.75% per annum, the total charge for credit would be £91.47.

This amount is for illustrative purposes only and the Annual Percentage Rate (APR) for comparison purposes is 34.16% APR.

How can I increase, reduce or cancel the arranged overdraft on my account?

Just call us on 0800 0850 444*.

The process to increase, reduce or cancel an overdraft usually takes 3 working days. Once completed your overdraft limit will be updated or cancelled and we will send you a letter to confirm this.

*Open Mon – Fri 8:30am to 8pm, Sat 9am to 2pm. Calls to 0800 numbers are free from all consumer landlines and mobile phones. For your security and to improve our service to you, we may record and monitor phone calls for training purposes.

Frequently asked questions about overdrafts

Is it suitable for me?

An overdraft is only suitable for short-term borrowing. If you use an overdraft over longer periods, it can end up being more expensive than other forms of borrowing. If you need a more certain, longer-term solution, a loan may be more suitable.

Are there any unusual terms?

1. Your overdraft facility has no minimum or maximum term and is repayable, in whole or in part, on our demand, at any time.
2. You must ensure that the account on which your overdraft is granted has a credit balance for a total of at least 30 days, whether consecutively or counted separately, during the 12 months period immediately following the date of sanction and in each subsequent 12 month period whilst you continue to benefit from an overdraft facility.
3. The interest rate is variable and will rise and fall in line with fluctuations in the Reference Interest Rate (e.g. Bank of Ireland UK base rate). The current Base Rate and details of all current account rates are listed in Interest Rate Brochure from bankofirelanduk.com. Changes in the interest rate may increase the total cost of the overdraft.
4. Unarranged overdraft interest will be charged to your account at the same time and in the same manner as the usual interest charges. You may also have to pay additional unarranged overdraft charges or if a debit item has to be returned unpaid due to lack of funds in your account.

What if I fail to pay back the overdraft when you demand?

1. You may have to pay extra interest and charges. Details are set out in our Schedule of Charges for Personal Customers brochure.
2. We may take steps to recover the money you owe us. This may include taking action through a debt-collection agency, or a solicitor. We may then take court action against you. Each of these steps may lead to you having to pay extra costs on top of your overdraft.
3. Any court action we take may include applying for a bankruptcy order against you, or a charging order or order for sale (in Scotland, an inhibition) over any property you own. This may result in your home being repossessed. Interest will be charged at the applicable rate under the agreement before and after any court judgement.
4. Your credit rating may be impacted, and it will be more difficult or expensive for you to get credit in the future.
